

Demography Seminar

Tuesday, March 28th

12:15pm-1:30pm

8417 Sewell Building

Tyson Brown
Duke University
Department of Sociology

Population Health & Systemic Racism

Methodological Challenges, Innovations and Opportunities

Dr. Brown directs the Center on Health & Society at Duke University, and his program of research examines the who, when, and how questions regarding ethnoracial inequalities in health and wealth. He is currently working on several projects that investigate macro-level factors and psychosocial mechanisms that underlie social inequalities in health.

University of Wisconsin-Madison
CENTER FOR DEMOGRAPHY AND ECOLOGY

Center for Demography
of Health and Aging
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON